Presentation of participants

Cercle de Réflexion des Nations

"Since the end of cold war, the nature of conflicts has changed. Conflicts are becoming much more complex and find their causes within each country's strains while violence comes from multiple areas (economic, social, religious, ethnics, etc.) In this context, the traditional diplomacy relying on relationships between nations need to be sustained by organizations that are directly connected with the specific character of the conflicts and have an in-depth understanding of local situations.

To facilitate the role of UNITED NATIONS peacekeeping operation forces, the international community needs leaders with relevant skills based on a strong culture of peace associated with an involvement in the field as well as hospital facilities to take care of people who are suffering around the world.

In this context The Cercle de Réflexion was inaugurated on July 25th, 1994 at the United Nations Headquarters. Its aim is to propagate the United Nations philosophy of peace and to intervene in favour of any action likely to promote peace, by glorifying the magnanimity and nobility of humankind as well as the defence of our earth.

The Cercle de Réflexion is today an International Organization supported by governments and is about to become an Inter-Governmental Organization after the signature of the new Charter by the Member States of the United Nations."

Almont Park

“Initially, Almont Park was the specific name of a real estate project located in the north area of a French city closed to Paris. This real estate project aims to set up a group of people and businesses involved into the development of the “Convergence” project. This project is based on a disruptive technology which allows a computer to read and understand text written in natural language as a human does. Using this disruptive technology, we are planning to create an intelligent search engine.

That search engine will be progressively integrated into a pocket size electronic architecture in order to manufacturer a digital companion, the MobiTouch®. It will be able to assist each one of us according to our own rhythm and our proper choices in the discovery of human knowledge. According to our strategic alliance with CRN, we decided to serve poorest people in the world. Today, Almont Park becomes the generic name of group of people and businesses committed to the Convergence project whose application will be developed in various high-tech areas in France and in Switzerland.

“Convergence”

Executive summary

Imaginez un système informatique capable de choisir parmi toutes les données disponibles celles dont on a réellement besoin au bon moment !
Imagine a computer system able to choose among all data available those we really needs at the right time!

Imaginez que sorti de votre poche vous puissiez vous aussi simplement l’utiliser comme bon vous semble où que vous soyez !
Imagine getting it out of your pocket, you too, you should be able to simply use it as you like anywhere!

Imaginez enfin qu’au fur et à mesure de son utilisation, il puisse anticiper l’usage que vous en faites, en augmentant la qualité de son interactivité et la performance de son emploi !
Finally, imagine using it over time, such system should be able to anticipate what you want to do with, improving the quality of its interactivity and the performance of its uses!

Your companion is born!

The Mobitouch®

Anytime! Anywhere! Anyone!

We put Human Knowledge in the palm of your hands.

Conclusion of the author

Almont Park

Each human being has the right and the obligation to access to human knowledge, acquired and developed from generation to generation. His right is the external force which he must exercise and put into practice! His obligation is the internal path which he must take in order to cultivate his will! As a companion, the Mobitouch® is made to facilitate these double travels which in action are making only one. This daily service constitutes its primary dimension.

The Human spirit is not separate from the nature. Human behavior is linked to environment he has to face, including bad experiences he has to overcome or joy he does feel. Life is a bit of time to learn to love across these experiences. Each human being is unique and his itinerary is precious to all. This is the second dimension of the Mobitouch® which allow to value experience of individuals to the benefit of all.

The third dimension of the Mobitouch® is the most important; it shows that there is in each of us a small light coming from the past which always gives the opportunity of self reconstruction. This hope is born from the love in movement created by life.

All lives are making one in love which unifies them.
